"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

We nominate Congressman Bob Poage the best reporter of the week. Here is his story of the Jefferson Island day out where the president sits under a tree and smiles but says nothing. When asked by Mr. Poage about the Brazos River project the president didn't know about it except he thought it was a part of the Trinity Canal job. The story:

This week end the Jefferson Island Club is playing host to all Democratic Members of Congress—in both House and Senate, at a series of "stage" parties, the first of which I attended yesterday. Another group is in attendance today and still a third group goes down Sunday. The President of the United States is the guest of honor at each of these parties. He and most of the Cabinet and the heads of the independent offices, such as Henry Hopkins of the W. P. A., Dr. Will Alexander of Resettlement, etc., will stay overnight with the leaders of the House and Senate and will be present all three days. Invitations were issued under the name of Senator Joe Robinson, who is President of the Club. The meetings are supposed to have great political significance, but I must confess that I was not privileged to observe any "heavy conferences."

As I saw it, the party was similar to one of our Texas barbecues. I drove over to Annapolis with four other Texas Congressmen. There we were required to show our invitations and to be identified by the door-keeper of the House, and then to sign a register. Then we were allowed to go aboard a boat. There were about five or six boats, each carrying about 25 passengers. It is 18 miles from Annanapolis to Jefferson Island. We had a perfect day. The Bay (Chesapeake) was absolutely smooth and the sun bright, but not extremely hot. When we got within about a mile of the island we had to transfer to smaller boats to get into the shallow water. We came up to a long pier where we disembarked and walked ashore to a low islet of probably 80 acres, partly covered with nice pines. On one end there had been about five or six acres cleared out and a very nice, but not elaborate, club house erected.

On landing, the visitors were met by democratic leaders, Joe Robinson and Sam Rayburn and Speaker Bankhead. They led us down to a tree about a hundred yards from the house, where the President was sitting. Each one of us was introduced and the President gave a warm handshake and a broad smile and told us how glad he was to see us. As there were others coming on we had to move along.

Up at the house they were serving all kinds of drinks and groups gathered in every shade to stop and talk. Joined by George Mahon of Texas and Wilburn Cartwright of Oklahoma, I tramped all around and over the small islet and at least learned some geography. On coming back to the house we joined various groups and I drifted back into the President's group. He is very friendly and has a fine stock of knowledge, but you can understand that with from ten to twenty men around all the time and each one wanting to ask about something of especial interest to him and his district, there was no opportunity to get any very definite discussion of any controversial issue. I heard no mention of the strikes, the Court reorganization or any of the more outstanding issues,

San Diego, Calif.—While fighting a grass blaze, firemen here wondered if they were fighting a blaze or a battle after they had been bombarded with five shots. Investigation disclosed a rusted, burned pistol in the grass, its five shells recently discharged.

ICERS LOSE NIGHT GAME AT AUSTIN

The Cameron Icers were defeated at Austin Wednesday night by the 7-Up Bottlers seven to three. The Bottlers out hit the Icers twelve to six, two of these were doubles and two were tripples. Only one home run was made during the game when Price poled one out into left center and was lost in the grass and weeds.

The Icers made their first tally in their first time at bat when Westerman tripled and scored on Brinkley's single. In the seventh the Icers added two more scores on two hits and two errors. In the third Webb, the portside pitcher for the Bottlers led off with a triple and scored on Ollie's single. In the seventh the Bottlers put over six runs in six hits and two errors. During the game the Icers were charged with three errors while the Bottlers made four bobbles.

Smith for the Icers and Webb for the Bottlers went the entire route Some of the players seemed to be handicaped playing under he lights and this no doubt was responsible for so many errors.

COLORED PAVEMENTS

San Francisco—By mixing asphalt with a reddish color between maroon and gamenta, the sidewalks and pathways of Treasure Island, the site of San Francisco's 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, will be colored. According to a color expert, this will raise the emotional level of visitors, keep them gay and vivacious, the women appear younger and beautiful and the men more romantic.

THE PENSION ISSUE

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

"The season has passed and the harvest is ended and there are souls yet unsaved." In a similar vein I am going to suggest that the Texas Legislature has adjourned and the members have gone home, and there are thousands of people over 65 years of age that were left off the pension rolls. In addition to this disappointment it is announced that over 30,000 that have been on the pension rolls are to be cut off for lack of funds to pay the old people who have been receiving a small pittance.

It is contended by the state authorities that the Federal government is complaining that Texas pension roll is too large and for that reason further reduction in the Texas list of pensioners is in the making. It is regretable that the legislature did not meet the pension problem in a statesmanlike manner. Its failure to do so now presents an issue that must be met in next years campaign. Every candidate for Governor and Lieutenant Governor as well as every candidate for the legislature should be anxious to tell the people what they propose to do to pay the full pension of $15 a month which the people voted in last year's election.

No candidate should be allowed to duck or dodge the issue. It should be made an issue of pensions or part pension, for the constitution or against the constitution.

What the Federal government says or does should not in any way interfere with the state's obligation to pay the full $15 a month on all persons qualified under the constitutional amendment voted by the people. If the Federal government was to offer to pay $15 a month it would not relieve the state of its obligation to also pay $15 a month which the state is bound to pay.

Suppose the Federal government should say that it will not pay but $5 a month, (and I look for them to say it soon) would any sensible and fair minded person contend that the state has paid its just debt to the old people by paying them only $5 a month just because the Federal government was paying only that much?

Texas must paddle its own canoe, and, therefore, it must provide for the payment of $15 a month to all constitutionally qualified pensioners without red tape qualification. The Battle is on. Boys, if you are with me, write me.

At The THEATRE

By GEO. WINCHELLE

They gave him a gun, taught him to use it and he became a big shot. A war hero after a faltering start in which he revolts over the thoughts of slaughter, a life drama develops and unfolds one of the strongest screen productions of the year. Opening at Cameron Theatre Thursday and running through Friday "They Gave Him a Gun" stars Spencer Tracy as Fred Willis, hard boiled circus barker who joins the army and teaches Jimmy Davis played by Franchot Tone, how to be tough and use a gun. The world war and then the era of racketeering furnishes the background for this picture. In it runs the thread of romance, a love story in which Gladys George plays a leading part. The story ends with the brutal truth of gang warfare and Jimmy's death who was a prize pupil in the school of gun use.

There is always more than usual interest in a new cast. Saturday patrons of Cameron Theater have an opportunity to see a new star and a new cast. Maxwell Anderson's Broadway stage hit "Winterset" is an engaging story of mystery, murder, mob rule and love, with a strong cast. Burgess Meredith makes his screen debut in this great picture of New York underworld life. The story is like one of the Van Dine novels and its appeal is doubly strong by reason of the mixed elements of life and the mystery detail.

One could not imagine a greater cast than Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck and Victor McLaglen in "This is My Affair" opening for a two day run at Cameron Theatre Sunday, July 4th. It is a different story. It begins at the turn of the century McKinley is president and Robert Taylor, a young lieutenant is called upon to suppress lawlessness in the far west. He disgraces himself purposely and is discharged so begining a long association with the underworld of that day. In St. Paul where gangsters of that day are unmolested he associates with McLaglen, Brian Donlevy who owns a cafe in which Stanwyck is a dancer. The story runs through exciting times of intrigue and early 20th century crime and mystery. Theodore Roosevelt comes to power and the McKinley assassination is a part.

Newton, Cameron; Jim Petruy, Marvin Mitcham, Miss Ann Odem, Brayant Station.

Testimony was completed Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the case of Nolan Butler, 18, charged with the murder of G. C. Gaines, 21, of Val Verde, on the night of March 13, 1937, at the Robert Downing store at Val Verde.

Charges were prepared and the case argued Friday afternoon.

Nolan Butler took the witness stand on Thursday afternoon and was questioned for one hour and thirty-five minutes. Butler replied quickly to questions asked him by lawyers and when relating incidents relative to the case, he talked hurriedly.

"I didn't want any trouble with the Gaines' boys and I didn't start the trouble" Butler said when questioned about fights he had had with Clyde Gaines on two different occasions, about five months before G. C. Gaines received wounds, which allegedly caused his death, and for which Butler was charged.

Refering to the night of March 13, when Butler is charged with knifing Gaines, he said that as G. C. Gaines walked out the door and called to him (Butler) to wait, Gaines had his right hand in his pocket and was walking rapidly. "It flashed through my mind about the threats G. C. had made about me and I thought he was going to hurt me and thought Gaines had something in his hand— a knife or a pair of knuckles" Butler said.

Parents Testify

Mr. and Mrs. John Butler, parents of the youth on trial testified that they had admonished their son, Nolan, not to have any trouble with the Gaines' boys and that Nolan had gone to only two parties following the trouble with the Gaines' boys, whereas he (Nolan) previously had been attending all the parties in the community.

Testimony disclosed that on February 7, 1936, the John Butler family rented and moved on the Aycock place where the Gaines family had lived for a number of years, causing the Gaines family to move to an adjoining farm.

State Rebuttal

In the state's rebuttal, Woodrow Gaines, 22, was questioned. Woodrow Gaines was the only witness in the trial who told of how the trouble began between he and his brothers and the Butler boy.

"At a party one night in September, 1936, we were playing games and it was the custom for boys to cut in on one of the girls and he (Nolan) wouldn't let any of the other boys break in on him and would push other boys away if they tried to break in. Clyde my brother wanted to play with the girl and said that the Butler boy had better not push him back. As Clyde went to cut in on Butler and the girl, Butler pushed Clyde away and a fight ensued.

Character witnesses testified for Butler and the boy, G. C. Gaines whom he was charged with murdering. Both boys were described as having good requtations.

Defense Is Made

The defense in the case tended to show that the boy who was killed and his brothers "ganged" Nolan Butler at two different times and were not satisfied with two fist fighs which occured between Clyde Gaines and Nolan Butler, but G. C. Gaines had made threats afterwards to still give Butler a whipping.

Jack Doggett of Friendship and Virgil Galbreath, 26 year old farmers of the Val Verde community and a brother-in-law to the defendant were the main defense witnesses Wednesday afternoon.

Tells of Fight

Doggett was in charge of an amateur rogram at Bryant Station one Sunday in September, 1936, at which time the Gaines boys and the Butler boy were present and Clyde Gaines and Nolan Butler had a fight. "After the fight, I asked Butler and Gaines to get up on the stage and apologise. Butler stated that he was willing and he didn't want any more trouble. When I asked the Gaines boy to do that he said: "No, I don't want anything to do with the God——— ——"

Witnessed Fight

Coy Fikes of Bryant Station who saw the fight between Clyde Gaines and Nolan Butler at Bryant Station in September testified that he overheard G. C. Gaines say; "I'll get him some other day," after friends and relatives prevented any other fight that afternoon.

Bill Parker of Val Verde also stated that following the fight at Bryant Station, he advised G. C. Gaines to forget the affair, but G. C. Gaines still contended that he was going to whip Nolan Butler.

Fatal Fight Described

Virgil Galbreath, brother-in-law to Nolan Butler was present on the night of March 13 at the Downing store, where the wounding of G. C. Gaines occured. Galbreath testified: Clive Gaines and two of his sons, G. C. and Woodrow Gaines, Tinch McCormick, Milton Bailey, John Chaffin were among those at the store that night. As Nolan and I went in the store Mr. Gaines spoke to me and talked to me a short time. We stayed in the store about thirty minutes and then started home. There was no indications of trouble in the store. Nolan followed me out the door and then G. C. Gaines came to the door and called to Nolan: "Wait a minute I want to see you." Nolan turned around and waited. G. C. Gaines had his right hand in his pocket as he walked up to Nolan and said: "You never did apologize to me for what happened on the river" and to which Nolan replied: "I thought that was all settled," G. C. said: "By God, that's what you think." I (Galbreath) told Gaines that we did not want any more trouble' to which G. C. replied: "You don't amount to a dam and the whole dam family can get on me of they want to" G. C. Gaines then struck at Nolan Buttler with his right hand and Nolan threw up his hand to ward off the lick. I then heard Gaines say "he knifed me."

FARM CLUB NEWS

31 pints of pineapple and pineapple juice have been put on the pantry shelves of Mrs. E. G. Tucker at a cost of 75c.

Mrs. Tucker who is home food supply demonstrator in the Tracy Home Demonstration club bought 5 large, sound pineapples for 50c. She used 25c worth of sugar and pint jars on hand. Her turnout was 3 jars of slice fruit, 15 jars of cubed fruit and 13 jars of juice.

The method given in Extension Service Canning Bulletin B-85 gives the following method for canning this fruit:

Peel, remove eyes, slice and core. Leave in rings or cube. Pack fruit in jars or plain tin cans. Cover with boiling syrup made in the proportions of one cup of sugar to 3 of water. Exhaust 5 minutes, seal and process 30 minutes at boiling.

Eggs sold by Mrs. H. L. Colbert of the Bryant Station Home Demonstration Club pay for the chicken feed, buy ice and all the fresh fruits and vegetable not produced on the farm that she and her husband need.

Mrs. Colbert has recently culled her flock, taking out the poorest birds. Twenty-three were culled from a flock of 90.

A slight decline in the average number of eggs laid may be due to the fact that hens are going out of production at this time of the year. Mrs. Culbert reports that the feed bill has not been reduced but that the hens left are getting more nearly the amounts they need.

Both a clothes closet and a bath room will be provided in the J. K. Dunham home at Duncan as a result of Mrs. Dunham's work as wardrobe demonstrator in the Duncan Home Demostration Club.

The clothes closet which will open into the bed room will be built in a room used as a catch-all. Enough wall board to enclose the closet was bought for $4. The remainder of the small room will be made into a bath.

A friend has made and given Mrs. Dunham her closet's fittings—tie, hat and shoe racks.

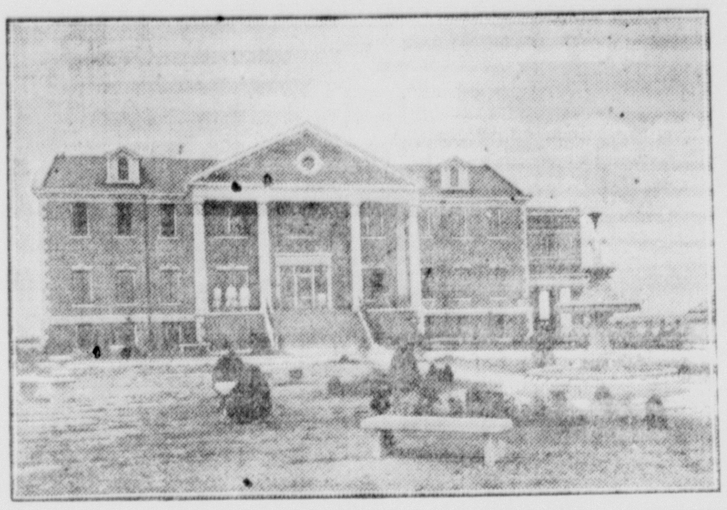
Woodmen Circle To Dedicate Building To National Leader; Dream Becomes Reality



Nine years ago this fall, in the city of Sherman, Texas, ground was broken for the first building of the Home for Aged Members and Orphan Children of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle. The official ground breaking ceremony fell on the birthday of Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley, then national secretary of the society.

Named For Her

Today word is received from national headquaretrs in Omaha, Nebr., that the board of directors has unanimously decided to name the administration building of the Home for the woman whose birthday was celebrated so uniquely in November, 1928—Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley, now national president of the Woodmen Circle.

Well Deserved Tribute

The tribute to Mrs. Talley was well-deserved, it was said, for the Home is responsible to Mrs. Talley for its very existence. It was in her mind, more than a decade ago, that the Home was born. She has followed its every step from the time the land near Sherman was purchased until the present. She has supervised the Home activities and is beloved by all of its residents.

The first and largest building of the $500,000 Home will be given its new name in a special dedicatory service in Sherman on or about Mrs. Talley's birthday this year, the directors announced.

MRS. G. R. YOAKUM IS BURIED SUNDAY

Mrs. G. R. Yoakum, 86, resident of Milam county for about fifty years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jim Davis, at Sandy Creek, June 18, at 6 o'clock, after an illness of several months.

The body rested in the home until Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock when the remains were escorted by a large crowd of relatives and friends to Sandy Creek Church where services were held by the Rev. H. E. Crone, of Rockdale. The remains were laid to rest in the Sandy Creek cemetery by the side of her husband, G. R. Yoakum, who died July 7, 1917.

Native of Mississippi

Lucinda E. Bryant was born Dec 20, 1850, in Tippa county, Mississippi, and came to Texas in 1866. She was married to G. R. Yoakum in 1890, and to this union were born three children. One passed away in infancy, and two survive.

Mrs. Yoakum was a member of the Baptist church about 50 years and in 1921 she was baptised into the church of Christ, and was a devoted christian until her death. Until about a year ago she was very active for her age and attended church regularly. Being of a retiring and loving nature, she spent most of her time with her children and grandchildren.

Four Children Survive

Mrs. Yoakum is survived by one son, George Yoakum of Hamilton Chapel, and one daughter, Mrs. Jim Davis of Sany Creek; one step son, Walter Yoakum of Milano; one step daughter, Mrs. J. A. Bryant of Cameron; 11 grandchildren, 21 step grandchildren, a number of great step grandchildren and several great great step grandchildren, and also several nieces and nephews.

Pall bearers were three grandsons, Giles, John and Herbert Yoakum; three nephews, Bentley, Eugene and Fonso Bryant.—Rockdale Reporter.

MILAM BUSINESS UP U. S. CENSUS SHOWS

An accurate index of the progress of retail trade in Milam county, in various lines of business, through comparison of sales figures for two successive years in identical business establishments, is made available for the firt time in a report just issued by the census bureau.

Out of 340 Milam county retail firms covered by the business census taken last year, 241 responded to the census bureau's request for 1934 sales figures as well as those for 1935. Comparison of these figures, the bureau points out, gives a picture of Milam county's retail business which is free from "the factor of mortality and the increment of new firms."

Report Accurate

In addition tos disregarding firms which dropped out of business from one year to the next, and new firms, which sprung up , in the late years, these figures also eliminate the errors which frequently arise through change in classification of businesses from one cause to the next , the bureau explains.

Here is what the new report shows:

The 241 Milam county stores reporting figures for both years showed an increase from $2,895,000 in 1934 to $2,976,000 in 1936.

Food stores, with 11 reporting, had a sales boots from $162,000 to $189,000.

30 eating and drinking places increased their sales from $180,000 to $182,000

Sales Are Up

14 general merchandise stores reported $269,000 in sales for 1934 and $258,000 for 1935.

Our Town

either by the President or to him.

This is one of the unfortunate features of our government. It is utterly impossible for an ordinary member to really discuss matters with the president, although many of them like to tell the people about how close they are to the President. Speaker Bankhead told me yesterday that during his first four years in Congress he never met the President but one time. So I hope my constituents who write and ask me to see the President for them will not be too disappointed when I fail in the effort.

I did get an opportunity to talk to the President about the Brazos River project, and found that he was very confused about the whole project and thought that we were in some way connected with the Trinity Canal. I tried to make it clear to him that ours was a flood control project, but with a dozen others all wanting to tell him of their own projects and some of the "ringmasters" always trying to keep the crowd moving, no conference could be very successful.

After lunch, which was served just like any Texas picnic (except that there was no chicken or barbecue) a group of about fifteen of us went over to an uninhabited beach and went swimming, just as we did when we were boys. On the whole, the crowd of about 150 seemed to enjoy themselves quite informally. Most everybody was in his shirtsleeves around the house, as was the President. They gathered in groups to talk just like Central Texas farmers and told jokes and talked of everything under the sun. Only one or two in the crowd seemed to have celebrated in excess. I left about 4:30 and got back to Washington about 7:30, with sore feet and a blistered back, but feeling that I had had a good trip and enjoyed good company.

Church

by the church and Little River Masonic Lodge and is used for Sunday school. The lodge was moved to Cameron.

Has 180 Members

The church now has 180 members. Nearby is the church yard maintained by the Little River Cemetery Association. The oldest grave stone bears the year mark of 1854.

Z. N. Morrell, early day Texas Missionary, was the first pastor of the church. S. H. Pollard, father of Chas. H. Pollard, former resident here, was also at one time pastor of the church. A high light in the history of the church was a great revival held by Dr. Lee R. Scarborough now of the Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

Near Jones Prairie

Mr. McKinney said that at one time many people went to Little River in Bell county thinking they were at Little River Church. Little River Baptist church is in Milam county at Jones Prairie. At one time a Baptist Association was known as Little River Association, ante-dating many years the Milam county association. The church at Cameron was organized around 1850 and is one of the oldest.

Phillip Reid of Fort Worth spent the week end here with his family. He and Mrs. Reid attended the Pan-American Exposition in Dallas last week.

Don't Pick 'em Up!

The thinking driver does not drink. He needs no evidence other than his own conscience to tell him that driving when his reactions are numbed by alcohol is a cardinal traffic sin.

The drinking driver does not think. For his benefit the following statistics are offered. They are taken from 1936 accident reports analysed by The Travelers Insurance Company.

Of all drivers in fatal accidents, 7.3 per cent had been drinking. This is an increase of eight per cent over 1935. Of all drivers in non-fatal accidents, 4.3 per cent had been drinking. While these figures are based on a broad spread of official state reports, the accuracy of the picture they present will be questioned because of differences of opinion as to what constitutes drunken driving.

Even worse is the record of pedestrians. One out of nine pedestrians killed in 1936 was under the influence of liquor. And 5.3 per cent of all pedestrians injured had been drinking.

COTTLES MOVE TO NAVASOTA JULY 1ST

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cottle and their daughter, Mary Ellen, have moved to Navasota where Mr. Cottle will engage in the hotel business.

Recently he sold his interests here at the Auditorium Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Cottle have been socially prominent and their going will be regretable to many friends. Mr. Cottle has been a civic leader and Navasota will be fortunate to enroll him as a citizen.

Mary Ellen is a student in high school and will graduate in Navasota in 1939.

MRS. FRANCES STOCKLAS BURIED IN CAMERON

Mrs. Frances Stocklas, 77, wife of Vincent Stocklas, died on Sunday, June 20, 1937, at 5:15 in the afternoon, at the family residence in Cameron. She had been in declining health for some time.

All members of her family were at the bedside when she died, except Mrs. Marie Busing of Santa Barbara, California, who arrived in Cameron the day following her mother's death; and Mrs. Anne Wille of Pheonix, Arizona, who could not reach Cameron in time for the funeral.

Buried Tuesday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Stocklas were held from the family residence at 9 o'clock Tuesday, June 22nd. The body was taken to St. Monica's Catholic church where a requiem Mass was said by Rev. Father Apel, assisted by the Rev. Father J. F. Hanak of Caldwell, a nephew of the deceased, who spoke beautiful words of consolation to the bereaved family in the Czech language. Rev. Father Aple spoke in English.

Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery near St. Monica's church.

A large concourse of friends came to pay their last tribute to Mrs. Stocklas who was held in high esteem by all who had known her in the life she lived to bless her family and friends and neighbors.

Born In Europe

Mrs. Stocklas was born in Zalkowitz, Chechoslovakia on February 13, 1860. In 1884 she left the old home in Europe and came to settle at Cameron where the family had since resided.

Mrs. Stocklas is survived by her husband, Vincnt Stocklas and five children, A. J. Stocklas, Rosebud; J. J. Stocklas, Cameron; Mrs. E. G. Busing, Santa Barbara, California; Mrs. R. E. Mitchell, Rosebud; Mrs. F. E. Wille, Phoenix, Arizona. A young son Vincent passed away in 1921. Twelve grand children also survive.

Mrs. Stocklas was a devoted wife and mother and a devout member of the Catholic church.

Married 57 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Stocklas had been married for 57 years and had lived to rear a family of children who have taken their places in the world of affairs as citizens. Friends and neighbors gave flowers in generous array to beautify the funeral ceremonies and to express their sympathy.

Pall bearers were: Vincent Kubecka, Frank Marek, J. T. Parma, J. Slavik, John Dohnalik and Frank Zarosky.

WOMAN'S CONFESSION IMPLICATES AGED MAN

Confession of a housekeeper that Frank Sefcik, 83 year old farmer at Sand Grove, had planned the killing of Chas. Masser, war veterans and farm hand, because he was jealous, was made to Justice Harris in Rockdale.

Sefcik was held on a charge of murder without malice, but has been placed in jail here on a straight charge of murder.

In the confession the woman said Sefcik placed a knife near the body to make it appear he had been attacked. Sefcik was released on $1000 bond.

The following day he was re-arrested, following the woman's confession and is now in jail.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Robinson of Ft. Worth spent the week end here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Watson.
